The Tower of London is an imposing pile of buildings, built on the site of a former Saxon stronghold by William the Conqueror in 1078, who in that year built the central keep or White Tower. Various kings have considerably added to its proportions until now it covers 13 acres of ground. Its history is most interesting and historic.

I am quite up to mark here for the sea. This is almost a good picture but the dome is a little high. Still it appeals to my higher emotions.
